Prudential RideLondon 2020

The Prudential RideLondon Surrey 100. It is your opportunity to cycle on closed roads around London, and most importantly for cyclo sportive riders. Ride a route that is based on a route made famous by the 2012 Olympics Road Race.

100,000 cyclists will apply through the ballot to enter the RideLondon Surrey 100. But only 25,000 people will be on the start line!

The RideLondon Surrey 100 mile sportive had its first start in 2015 at the new Queen Elizabeth Olympic Park. Then it followed closed roads through the Capital out into Surrey following much of the 2012 Olympic road race route. From Surrey it then came back towards the centre of London taking in some of the UK's most famous landmarks before finishing on The Mall, home to many famous events in British history, and overlooked by Buckingham Palace, home to the British Royal Family.

The Prudential RideLondon Surrey 100 is part of the larger RideLondon weekend, which also includes the Ride London Free Cycle on Saturday where up to 70,000 cyclists of all ages and abilities will ride freely (and non-competively) around an iconic 8 mile circuit in Central London. There is also the RideLondon Grand Prix on the evening of Saturday around a 1.3 mile circuit in Central London for Elite Women, Juniors and hand cyclists.

The Melia White House Hotel, is a 4 star hotel and is ideal for a longer stay and to bring non-riding partners and supporters. The hotel benefits from a prime central London location in a prestigious area in Regent's Park within close proximity of London's main attractions. They also provide a special bike room for all riders from Friday the August 2. Here you can store your bike and make any last minute adjustments should they be required.

Itinerary

Day 1

Check in Friday August 13

Arrange your own transport to London and please make your way to the Melia White House hotel. On arrival you will be able to put your bike into the special bike room at the hotel. The mechanic is on hand today to assist you with assembling your bike if you have traveled with your bike in a bike box or bag. After you have checked in, you will have the opportunity to have a wander out of the hotel and enjoy an evening out in London.

Day 2

Saturday August 14

The day of the Prudential RideLondon Grand Prix series and the Prudential RideLondon Freewheel event. If you have chosen to arrive today, you will be around at the hotel in case you require any assistance. Today is a free day to build your bike and register for the event. The guides are on hand to assist you. It is a good opportunity to explore the local area and prepare for tomorrow's event. If you want you can join the Prudential RideLondon Freewheel event today which is a free event with an expected 90,000 participants. Please note that this event is free but you have to pre-register online on the RideLondon website. Taking place in the evening, the Prudential RideLondon Classique for elite women series will take place on closed roads in and around The Mall, Whitehall, the Strand and Trafalgar Square. From our hotel you will be able to walk over to watch some of the action. The Mall is a couple of km walk away from the hotel. Check-in time is 15.00

Sunday August 15

For those competing in Prudential RideLondon-Surrey 100, you will ride to the start from the hotel and be given a waved start somewhere between 06:00 and 08:30. Our bike guide will ride with you to the start at the earliest time. The ride will pass through nine London boroughs and the county of Surrey, before returning to Central London for a finish on The Mall. Later in the afternoon there will also be a Pro cycling event. Prudential RideLondon-Surrey Classic is the UCI event for 150 of the world's best cyclists. The route of the Prudential RideLondon-Surrey Classic is a variation on the London 2012 Olympic Road Race route. It will follow a similar route as the Prudential RideLondon-Surrey 100 course and feature a route extension (in Surrey) to meet UCI pro race requirements. You will be able to watch the finish of the Pro Race on the Mall this afternoon after you have finished yourself and got changed at the hotel. The Prudential RideLondon-Surrey 46 is likely to start around 9am from Queen Elizabeth Olympic Park.
